
Society for Affective Science

Inaugural Conference — April 24-26, 2014

Hyatt Regency Bethesda, Washington, DC

The Society

Founded in 2012, the Society for Affective Science is a scientific society whose mission is to foster basic and applied research in the variety of fields that study affect broadly defined. To promote this purpose, the Society will hold its inaugural conference in April 2014 for presentation and discussion of original theory and research, instrumentation and methodology, and new directions and standards in the field. Check out our website at society-for-affective-science.org.

The Meeting

Submit your registration by August 31, 2013, to receive the early-bird discounted rate • Students: $175 and Faculty: $295 USD.

Keynote Speakers:

Joseph LeDoux

New York University

Batja Mesquita

University of Leuven

Antonio Rangel

California Institute of Technology

Tanya Singer

Max Planck Institute for Human Cognitive and Brain Sciences

Presidential Symposium:

Huda Akil

University of Michigan

Richard J. Davidson

University of Wisconsin-Madison

Robert W. Levenson

University of California, Berkeley

Helen Mayberg

Emory University

Debate:

Adam Anderson

Cornell University

Lisa Feldman Barrett

Northeastern University

Flash Talks:

Ann Kring, Moderator

University of California, Berkeley

Wendy B. Mendes, Moderator

University of California, San Francisco

Salons:

Ralph Adolphs

California Institute of Technology

Barbara Fredrickson

University of North Carolina

James Gross

Stanford University

Thomas R. Insel

National Institute of Mental Health, NIH

Methods Lunches:

Greg Siegle, Chair

University of Pittsburgh

“TED” Talks:

Paul Bloom

Yale University

Laura Carstensen

Stanford University

Gerald Clore

University of Virginia

Steve Cole

University of California, Los Angeles

Angela Duckworth

University of Pennsylvania

Jutta Joormann

Northwestern University

Stacy Marsella

University of Southern California

Toni Schmader

University of British Columbia

Registration and Accommodations

Submit your registration by August 31, 2013, to receive the early-bird discounted rate • Students: $175 and Faculty: $295 USD.

The Society for Affective Science (SAS) Inaugural Conference will be held at the Hyatt Regency Bethesda Hotel (in the Washington, DC area), with support from the National Cancer Institute, Northeastern University, Stanford University, and the Association for Psychological Science.

The discounted conference hotel room rate is $189 single or double occupancy, not including a 13% tax. The room rate includes complimentary wireless Internet access in your sleeping room.

Check out the hotel at their website: www.bethesda.hyatt.com.

Check out local areas of interest at www.visitmontgomery.com.

Hotel Reservations:

1-800-233-1234 or +1-301-657-1234

Mention the 2014 SAS Conference to receive the discounted room rate.
